SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

THE STANDING AND SPECIAL COM-MITTEES HAVE BEEN NAMED.

All the Officers Nominated In the Caucus Were Elected_Work of the Day La the House of Delegates.

The senators struggled up the bill, as usual, yesterday morning, although the cheerless mists and dizzling rain were far from elements of happiness. Mr. Cooper prayed for wisdom to be sent unto all of the senators, and the faces of some of the bachelor solons softened as they feit themselves the especial objects of prayer.

The following bills, petitions, etc., were introduced and referred:

By Senator Jennings: Petition for relief of Henry Bales.

By Senator Walton: A bill to provide for working and keeping in repair the public roads of Shenandoah county.

By Senator Hurt: A petition for the amendment of the game laws. It asks that a penalty be imposed for hunting in the lands of another without permission of the owner.

Senator Jones offered the following. Which was agreed to:

Resolved, That that part of the Governor's measure relating to the funding of the public debt be referred to the Finance Committee, with instructions to report by bill or otherwise.

Senator Hurt offered a joint resolution, which was agreed to, extending the time for the sale of delinquent lands in Pittsylvania from December to May.

The Senate agreed to House joint resolution to enter upon the election of Capitol officers at 12:30 P. M.

A communication was received from the Governor transmitting a list of executive appointments made during the recess, also the report of the library building commission. for working and keeping in repair the

The Senate agreed to House joint resolution requesting the Auditor of Public Accounts to report the status in the several accounts of the treasurers and other officers of the several counties, cities, and towns of the Commonwealth.

The House bill renewing the charter of the Washington, and Western, relicant the Washington and Western railroad was placed on the calendar.

Senator Little's Bills.

Senator Littie's Bills.

The Senate bills relative to the incorporation of the Orphan's Home at Fredericksburg, introduced by Senator Little, were taken up and passed.

The two bills which Senator Little had passed in the Senate yesterday, touching the incorporation of the Assembly Home and School at Fredericksburg, Va., were of great interest to the people of that city.

The movement was started by the Rev. A. P. Saunders, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Fredericksburg, and the General Assembly of said Church in the United States, agreed to take control of the matter, and already $55,000 have been raised, and only one-fifth of the territory of said Church has been canvassed. At least $150,000 is expected to be controlled to the corporation are the orphans of deceased Presbyterian ministers and missionaries, and the children of Presbyterian missionaries, who are laboring sionaries, and the children of Presbyterian missionaries, who are laboring

Senator Harrison introduced a bill to amend the Code so as to provide that in any special election ordered by the Governor, there shall be designated a day forty-five days from the date of the issuance of the writ, excluding in the count the day on which the writ issues and inclusive of the day fixed for the election. The bill was referred

There was no other name presented for any of these offices than those recommended by the Democratic caucus, except for that of Superintendent of Public Instruction. Rev. I. N. May was in opposition to Rev. J. E. Massey, and received the votes of the two Populist senators, Messrs, Jackson and Jenniags. The caucus nominees received in every case the full Democratic vote present.

Mr. J. T. White, of Pittsylvania and Danville, was confined to his bed by sickness, on last Thursday, and was unable to attend the caucus in which the nominations for United States senator was made. Had he been present, he said yesterday, he would have voted for General Eppa Hunton for both terms, first, last, and all the time.

Mr. Josiah Ryland, Jr., the Second Auditor, during a conversation which I had with him yesterday, while congratulating him on his success, alluded to a remark which appeared in yesterday's Times, stating that the friends of Mr. Hyland, from the First district, were not averse to taking in a little combination, and Mr. Sidney P. Epes suffered by this little arrangement. Mr. Ryland was very emphatic in his statement that he had never authorized any combination whatsoever, but on the contrary, always requested his friends to let him stand merely on his merits. Mr. Ryland, like Judge Flournoy, fought his battle upon "the highest known lines," and remained averse to making any agreements whatsoever. It is understood, however, that some of the cierks in the Second Auditor's office have been approached by their friends the enemies, and promised to be retained in the office if they would assist in the election of Mr. Epes.

House of Delegates.

Speaker Cardwell called the House to order promptly at noon yesterday, and Rev. Dr. Moses D. Hoge offered prayer, as he has done every day this week.

Mr. James S. Jones, of King and Queen, offered the following joint resolution:

The resolution was agreed to.
Leave of absence was granted to the following members: John B. Miller, of Rappahannock, two days; J. D. Pretlow, of Southampton, two days; Camm Patteson, of Buckingham, two days; William M. Murrell, of Campbell, two days; C. E. Fahrney, of Rockingham, one day; A. J. Richardson, of Louisa, two days.

When the hour of 12:30 had arrived, the and many a flourishing political ambition has been cut down like the grars, and has withered away. The result in mary notable instances proclaimed the triumph of practical politics, and the young Democrats who were attending their first party scance, were taught that organization means victory, and without it the strong-

While the intense excitement of hursday night has to a large extent sub sided about the hotels, some of the mem-bers are just beginning to hear from their constituents, and it was rumored last night that several of them were to be requested to resign their seats, on ac-count of the way they voted in the senator-ship fight. There, however, seems to be no actual reasons for such reports. and Carter H. Harrison (Populist), as members of the joint committee, ap-pointed to count the votes cast, subse-quently returned and announced the re-sult of the several votes. Perhaps the prettiest nominating speech made in the House yesterday was that of Mr. Charles Bendheim, of Alexandria, who placed in nomination the name of Colonel Morton Marye, for the office of Auditor of Public Accounts. There have been many little laugh-able instances, which have come dur-ing the week, like gleams of sunshine through the rifts of summer clouds, and have relieved the constant strain of earnest political wire pulling.

The other night there was a general desire on the part of many of the members to see the Corbett sparring match, and a question arose as to where the entertainment was to be held. The party moved up to the hotel desk, and one of the senators, whose broad shoulders, handsome physique and military bearng always apparent when he marches at the head of his military company, nquired of Colonel Archer, "Where does inquired of Colonel Archer, "Where does "Pompadour Jim" spar to-night? Colonel Archer laughed merrily, and with a sweeping bow, turned to a tall man standing next to the senator, and said, "Senator —, let me introduce you to Mr. Corbett." The laugh went 'round as the senator hastened to assure the slugger that his use of "Pompadour Jim" was not terenied in disresseet.

slugger that his use of "Pompadour Jim" was not intended in disrespect.

There was as a general thing, always a liberal supply of refreshments in the rooms of the various candidates, and late Wednesday night a party of belated members in passing along the hall, discovered an earnest supporter of General Hunton's coming out of another candidates quarters: "Hello" shouted one of them, "What are you doing coming out of there?" Steadying himself against the wall, the visitor replied, "That's all right, boys, I believe in politics as in war, the best thing to do is to forage on the enemy." There was primafacie evidence of a most successful raid, and the policy was not disputed.
